Children's Non-Profit Hosts Golf Classic to Support Babies Who Need Clean Diapers.

Miami, March, 2018 - At the tail end of raising money to supply diapers to the littlest victims of Hurricane Irma, Miami Diaper Bank is soon hosting its first ever Golf Classic on Friday, March 16th, 2018 to raise money for South Florida babies who need access to clean diapers all year round. The tournament will bring together some of the top business executives in the community to tee off for babies in need at the International Links Miami- Melreese Country Club, one of the most acclaimed courses in all of Florida. Numerous community partners, including presenting sponsors Alliance Insurance Center and Global Benefits Group, have committed to making the event a success. There will be complimentary lunch, dinner and drinks provided by sponsors, Tito's Vodka, Gosling's Rum and Wynwood Brewery, as well as a chance to win $10,000 with a hole-in-one challenge or a trip for 2 to Pebble Beach, California. All net proceeds will benefit Miami Diaper Bank and their mission to provide clean diapers to underprivileged babies so they can be happy and healthy.

Many people are unaware that government assistance programs, such as food stamps and WIC do not provide funding for diapers, a basic necessity for all babies. In partnership with Jet.com, Miami Diaper Bank has access to high quality diapers at a special discounted price which allows donations to go the extra mile. When Hurricane Irma hurled through South Florida leaving many families in crisis, Miami Diaper Bank committed 100 percent of all donations from September 11th to October 31st, 2017 to purchasing diapers for families affected by the natural disaster. Their efforts during the difficult time for the Miami community will allow them to donate over 900,000 diapers to families affected by Hurricane Irma throughout the recovery process.
